Lastly, Ms. Rinzler would like the residential building, The Buchanan, to be excluded from the re-zoning map, and possibly landmarked as well.

Brad Korn, also from Mount Sinai Beth Israel, distributed a fact sheet on Legionellosis.

Business Session

The June minutes were adopted.

Chair's Report

Chair Eggers reported that a working group representing a variety of constituencies in Manhattan south of 34th street has begun the process of reviewing the transformation of Beth Israel into Mount Sinai Downtown. At this point the group is in fact-finding mode. Mount Sinai has been very forthcoming with information needed by the working group and the group looks forward to being a part of the discussion. Most of the group is interested in the changes to medical services. CB6 will also be involved with the disposition of real estate in the existing campus when the time comes. The process is expected to take about 4 years.

Mr. Eggers also reported that Murray Hill residents are facing yet another construction project in the form of an emergency ventilation system for the Lexington Ave. subway south of Grand Central (upper 30's) along Park Avenue. This had been discussed in June, and additional meetings have been held since the June Full Board meeting. At this time the board and the community are waiting for the EIS and final Scope documents, which are expected this fall. No date has been announced. There will be public hearings and a comment period. Neighbors will expect major mitigation to alleviate the constant disruption to the neighborhood in recent years and some residents are questioning whether the project should be undertaken at all. The DEIS will address neighborhood questions raised at the previous hearings and with the hope of having greater clarity this fall. Chair Eggers asks the community to be alert to notifications of hearings and the comment period.

Chair Eggers noted the congestion-monitoring project spearheaded by Second Vice-Chair Molly Hollister, along with First Vice Chair Claude Winfield, and with the invaluable assistance of Ahmed Tigani and others at the BPs office. The project will result in mapping existing and approved construction projects in an effort to mitigate the negative consequences of the projects and develop some sort of coordination to minimize disruptions to the neighborhood. Progress was made over the summer and Mr. Eggers hopes to have something concrete to share in the near future.

The Board's Communications and Technology working group had its first meeting last month. In addition to establishing guidelines for the content and format of routine communications, the group will review the Board website in its entirety to improve organization and make it an even more valuable tool for Board members and the community at large. The group will also receive training on use of the City's various data sources and act as advisors to the standing committees to provide routine and ad hoc reports that will better inform their decision making process.

Over the summer the Health and Education Committee received assistance from the multitalented Ahmed Tigani and the Borough President's Office in an assessment of the need for additional senior centers and/or programing for seniors in CD6. Mr. Eggers will have more information on this in the future.

He reminded everyone that the Board has a personnel committee, which was first established over a year ago. The committee deals with confidential matters as they apply to paid staff and advises the Executive Committee. The members of the committee include Chair Eggers, two former Chairs - Sandro Sherrod and Mark Thompson, First Vice- Chair Claude Winfield, and Treasurer Bea Disman.

In the coming month CB6 will be involved in a number of activities

On September 20th there will be a CB6/CB3 joint task force meeting on East Side Coastal Resilience. The City's efforts in the flood zone along the east river will be discussed. A ULURP action is expected to approve the erection of walls, the possible remapping of streets or sidewalks, and some adjustments to the configuration of Parks. Mr. Eggers thanked Ellen Imbimbo who is the primary expert on waterfront issues as well as Sandro Sherrod, Susan Steinberg, and Claude Winfield who are members of the task force.

On September 22nd there will be two sessions for the hearing on the East Midtown Rezoning plan. Chair Eggers thanked the Land Use and Waterfront Committee, especially Chair Terrence O'Neal, for extensive work on the proposal. He also thanked Bob Tuttle from City Planning, CB6's primary contact, who has worked diligently with the board as it come to grips with this complex plan.

Also on September 22nd, State Senator Brad Hoylman and CB6 will be co-sponsoring "Conservation Conversations", a discussion series on zero-emission vehicles at NYU. Details are provided on Senator Hoylman's and CB6's websites.

Mr. Eggers added that this Sunday, September 18th, at 3pm, there will be a ribbon-cutting ceremony for the Peace Clock sculpture at Trigve Lie Plaza. CB6 has been working towards this for almost a decade. He thanked Parks, Landmarks and Cultural Affairs former Chair and current Vice-Chair Gary Papush for his efforts over the years in getting this accomplished.

September is Emergency Preparedness Month. Members of NYC Emergency Management provided information at last week's Greenmarket at Dag Hammarskjold Plaza. Additional information is available on the NYC Emergency Management website, including topics on preparing for hurricanes. Links are provided on the CB6 website events page.

The Street Activity Permit Office (SAPO) of the Mayor's Office of Citywide Event Coordination and Management is establishing new rules for Street Festivals - a term they are now using instead of Street Fairs. The proposed Street Festival rules will broaden access to street festivals, support local business development and end the moratorium on street fairs without overburdening the New York City Police Department resources. You can download the proposed street festival rules, which are also available on the CECM website at <http://www1.nyc.gov/site/cecm/permitting/rules.page>. You may find information on how to submit your comments by referring to the website as well as the information on the public hearing that will be held on Thursday, October 13, 2016. This information will also be posted on the Board's website under the Events page.

Chair Eggers highlighted the upcoming meeting of the Board's Public Safety and Environment Committee on September 26th at 7 pm. The topic is LinkNYC, the city's effort to make wifi accessible on city streets. The board office has received many comments about the program, as well as reports of abuses that are occurring at these wifi sites. You can formally register your comments in a survey posted on the Board's website and by attending the meeting. Mr. Eggers announced that the Wifi capabilities of the kiosks have been disconnected by the City until the reported abuses can be addressed.

Chair Eggers reported that under our usual schedule, the October Full Board meeting would fall on Yom Kippur. In deference to this religious observance, the Board meeting will be the following week, Wednesday, October 19th. The Executive committee will meet on Wednesday, October 26th. There will be some changes in committee meetings for October that will be addressed in next week's Executive Committee meeting. Please check the Board calendar for changes.

He thanked District Manager Jesús Pérez for the work he has done over the summer. Among many other things, Jesus has reestablished the scheduled monthly newsletter, putting his own spin on this helpful communication. Mr. Eggers also thanked Letty Simon, who assisted with the newsletter.

Finally, Chair Eggers noted with sadness the recent passing of the mother of Board Secretary, Kathy Thompson. Kathy had asked him to thank the members of CB6 for their thoughtful cards, emails and calls during her mother's recent passing. She also would like to thank the board for the kind donation to the Humane Society of South Coastal Georgia in memory of her mother. The remembrance is so much appreciated.

Upon arrival of State Senator Brad Hoylman, and in accordance with the Board's bylaws, the meeting reverted temporarily to public session to hear from the Senator. Sen. Hoylman announced that he will be hosting and CB6 will be co-sponsoring "Conservation Conversations", a forum on zero emission vehicles and how they reduce the carbon imprint. He noted his concern of the L train shutdown and how it affects the more than 50K people in Manhattan that use it daily. Mr. Hoylman is also studying water quality and water security in the state, and the role manufacturers play in polluting the water system. Finally, he noted that the State Legislature had attempted to block the 5 cent fee on plastic bags in NYC. The topic will be revisited in January, 2017. For more information please go to: <http://bradhoylman.com/>.

District Manager's Report

District Manager Jesús Pérez announced that he has been in the position of District Manager for six months now, and thanks everyone on the board for their assistance during this period, with special thanks to Board Chair Rick Eggers. He reported that he and Mr. Eggers participated in a conference call yesterday with NYC Emergency Management. They spoke about the Know Your Zone Campaign. Hurricane season lasts from June 1st to November 30th, with the highest level of hurricane risk for NYC being August through October. NYCEM wants residents to familiarize themselves with the hurricane zone map and determine if they are in a zone where they live or work. Zone 1 is most likely to flood, while Zone 6 is least likely to flood. An independent study showed that only 16% of New Yorkers know their level of risk for hurricane.

You can find out if you live or work in one of NYC's 6 hurricane zones with the hurricane zone finder online www.nyc.gov/knowyourzone. It's critical to know what to do--have a plan in an emergency. It's also important to plan for your personal needs (dietary, medical needs, etc), and to stay informed. CB6 will request a presentation from NYCEM to help spread the word.

On September 6th Mr. Pérez attended the Borough Consultation meetings. These meetings are for all the District Managers in the borough to meet with city agencies to discuss the agencies' budgets and how those budgets impact service delivery in our district. These meetings will help the boards draft better budget requests and statements of district needs for the next fiscal year. Pedro Carrillo, CB6 Chair of Budget and Governmental Affairs also attended the consultations.

Finally, there is a new events page on the CB6 website. Please check it out at: www.Cbsix.org/events/

Treasurer's Report

Treasurer Bea Disman reported that at the close of the fiscal year end 2016 CB6 had $40K in the budget that went unspent and was returned to the City. This was due to an employee on maternity leave in the Personal Services portion of the budget; and the board was prevented from temporarily replacing the employee. The OMB report from September 19, 2016 shows that of the Personal Services Budget of $171,437, a figure of $130,711.16 was liquidated, leaving a balance of $40,725.84. The current budget for Other Than Personal Services at the end of FY2016 excluding rent is $115,367.52. Of this amount $79,718.00 is Street Fair Funds. The Temporary Contractor Services is $18K with remaining miscellaneous budget items of $17, 249.52. The budget for FY2017 Personal Services is $213,437.00. Other Than Personal Services budget is $111,102.00, of which $88,128.00 is Street Fair Funds.

Borough President's Report

Lesly Almanzar from the office of Manhattan Borough President Gale Brewer reported on BP Brewer's introduction of Intro No. 1182-2016, which seeks to reform the City's deed-modification procedures by creating a publicly available, searchable database containing all properties subject to deed restrictions imposed by or on behalf of the City, and by requiring the provision of additional notice to the public. Since introduction of the legislation, Ms. Brewer has written letters to the City Planning Commission seeking to include under the purview of the ULURP - which the letter described as "the city's gold standard of public review"- all requests to modify the deeds of formerly City-owned property - including the removal or modification of property restrictions.

Ms. Brewer is also aware of the many complaints associated with LinkNYC, and is working with the City to address these issues. The Borough President's Office is currently working with CB6 to create a database of construction projects in the community which would reflect the status of each project. The Manhattan Community Award Program, which provides funding for programming and operational expenses to nonprofit organizations and public schools, has an application deadline of September 25th.

Finally, on September 22nd, BP Brewer will host a forum on downtown construction projects at the Borough of Manhattan Community College. For more information please go to: <http://manhattanbp.nyc.gov/html/home/home.shtml>.

e. Scope of the Environmental Review of the Proposed Changes to East Midtown:

Whereas, the City of New York desires to maintain East Midtown as the City's premier central business district and to that end is proposing changes to the zoning that would, among other things, increase permitted floor area ratios to encourage the redevelopment of existing buildings with substantially larger new office buildings, and;

Whereas, the City has issued a Draft Scope of Work for an Environmental Impact Statement on the Greater East Midtown Rezoning (CEQR NO. 17DCP001M), has scheduled a public meeting on Thursday 22 September to hear comments on the scope, and will accept written comments through Tuesday 4 October, now;

Whereas, the basis of the proposed zoning text amendments is the East Midtown Steering Committee Report, issued in October of 2015; and

Whereas,

Therefore, be it

Resolved, that Manhattan Community Board Six, requests that the following matters be fully disclosed and analyzed in the environmental review:

- If zoning, as proposed for east Midtown is used to raise funds to improve the MTA's transit facilities or the DoT's streets, is it likely to favor those objectives to the detriment of others such as daylighting of the streets, maintaining density appropriate to the capacity of public circulation and open spaces, and protection of the existing built fabric, including urban design and contextual structures?
- The Special Midtown District includes a quantitative system, known as daylight evaluation, for measuring the sky exposure that a building leaves to provide daylight to the street. The increased FARs being proposed are likely to require substantial modification of height and setback to meet the daylight evaluation scores and quantify the impact of the proposed zoning changes on the area's streets and public spaces.
- The zoning text amendments indicate that the zoning increases only apply to sites along wide streets. The greater FARs may justify assemblages or zoning lot mergers that might not otherwise occur. City Planning should study various scenarios to protect East Midtown from unintended consequences of the rezoning.
- It appears that the pre-identified transit improvements will be mostly within MTA facilities rather than on development sites. The text amendments should allow for transit improvements that may not be included in a ULURP-approved MTA plan.
- MTA's improvements should allow for creative ideas for underground placemaking as described in the Steering Committee Report.
- There are 2 special permits proposed under the rezoning: the existing 20% subway improvement bonus (3 FAR) and the Public Concourse, similar to a covered pedestrian space (3 FAR). By providing both special permits, it appears that total FAR for many potential sites will exceed the 30 FAR maximum recommended by the Steering Committee
- Is it a disincentive for the public realm to allow a developer to go use the special permits and thus not provide any public realm improvements?
- Pedestrian traffic in East Midtown is already overloaded in many locations. It would appear that the rezoning is adding more traffic without providing any mitigation for the additional congestion.
- The Steering Committee report emphasized the need for public realm improvements. Although additional open space has been proposed as part of the plan, can the City incentivize even more open space and can open space be more prominent in the proposed text amendment?
- The proposed plan would increase the FAR on the Pfizer site from C5-2 (10 FAR) to C5-3 (15 FAR). Should this occur, the owner should be required to pay into the fund, just as any other owner of an overbuilt building would be required to do.

e. Pt2-Applicability of East Midtown Changes East of Third Avenue:

Whereas, the City of New York desires to maintain East Midtown as the City's premier central business district and to that end is proposing changes to the zoning that would, among other things, increase permitted floor area ratios to encourage the redevelopment of existing buildings with substantially larger new office buildings, and;

Whereas, the East Midtown Steering Committee discussed but did not resolve whether or not areas on the east side of Third Avenue should be included in the rezoning, despite the protestation by the representative of Community Board Six that such areas should not be included, and

Whereas, the Greater East Midtown Rezoning project proposes the eastern boundary of the rezoning district to be 200 feet east of Third Avenue, and

Whereas, the eastern portion of East Midtown is more mixed use than the more western part of East Midtown, providing a transition to the residential neighborhoods further east, and

Whereas, there is currently substantial residential development occurring in the eastern portion of East Midtown and in the areas further east, indicating that there is not now a need to encourage development in this area through rezoning, and

Whereas, transit accessibility in the western portion of East Midtown will soon be improved by the completion of East Side Access, bringing LIRR service to the Vanderbilt Avenue side of Grand Central Terminal; however, the Second Avenue subway is still many years from bringing increased transit capacity to the eastern portion of East Midtown, and;

Whereas, the existing office buildings in the commercial district on the east side of Third Avenue abut a residential zone including the adjacent midblocks of Turtle Bay -- a precipitous contrast which would be exacerbated by even larger office buildings incorporating the greater floor area ratios being proposed for East Midtown, and

Whereas, the development of larger office buildings along Third Avenue would increase pressure on the residential character and quality of life in the neighborhoods to the east, inducing increased traffic and congestion and the infiltration of commercial uses, and;

Therefore, be it

Resolved, that Manhattan Community Board Six requests that the east side of Third Avenue is removed from the proposed rezoning district, and that the eastern boundary is moved to the midline of Third Avenue in the entire area between 40 and 56 Streets.
