Korean War Veterans Memorial Parkway

Traffic Pattern:

- The New York State Department of Transportation (NYSDOT) is advising motorists of a permanent change in traffic pattern at the Korean War Veterans Parkway (KWVP)/West Shore Expressway (WSE) Interchange approaching the Outerbridge Crossing on Staten Island.
- To increase mobility and improve safety, a concrete barrier has been installed to channel westbound traffic heading to the Outerbridge Crossing to appropriate lanes, separating KWVP traffic from merging WSE traffic. Traffic on the KWVP wanting to access Arthur Kill Road will continue to use the Maguire Avenue/Bloomingtondale Road /Arthur Kill Road exit, eliminating vehicles crossing two lanes of traffic to access Exit 1 (Arthur Kill Road).
- This work is part of a $5.4 million safety and mobility improvement project at the Interchange, which also included construction of a new 3,000-foot sidewalk along the Korean War Veterans Parkway service road (Drumgoole West) between Bloomingtondale Road and Lenevar Avenue, which opened in October. The new sidewalk complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act and improves safety and access to Bloomingtondale Park and the surrounding community. The sidewalk also provides direct access to express bus stops at Bloomingtondale Road.
