Highlights

1. The Blood Center's 334-foot Commercial Tower proposal is coming to a final hearing at the Council, where we need you to come out to save JREC, save St. Catherine's Park, and save the neighborhood. I hope to see you at the final hearing on October 20th when we take back City Hall.
2. During Climate Week, the City Council passed my legislation to direct $20 billion in city spending toward combating climate change.
3. We also heard legislation I authored to combat illegal short-term rentals so residents no longer have to compete with tourists for housing.
4. I've proposed making those temporary pressurized walls you see everywhere legal, so you can legally add a wall to give a roommate or your child a room.
5. With Early Voting and Absentee Ballots, voting starts in October, and you won't want to miss your chance to pick our next Mayor, City Council Member, or vote on how to amend our State Constitution.
